SURVEYS & SETTINGS.

Inside the SURVEYS section, you can design or edit questionnaires or choose from relevant HSC selection of compliance templates. Based on your preferences, surveys can be public or anonymous, with a duration ranging from a day to a year. Layout forms can vary from a single-page survey to a question-per-page format. A preview is available prior to publishing.

There are four types of questions at your disposal. You can invite respondents to rate their feelings on a sliding scale. Except for these graphical grading questions, you can opt for radio button questions, which allow selecting a single choice from a list, or the checkbox question type for a multiple-choice survey. Additionally, if you go for a text entry box, your survey will collect short answers from participants.

Additionally, inside the SETTINGS section, it is possible to add your company logo and appoint a person responsible for the survey while sending emails regarding notifications and reminders.

Accurately interpreting people's sentiments can be beneficial to companies. Gain a comprehensive understanding of the gathered answers by choosing the appropriate sentiment polarity of questions (positive, negative, or neutral).

EMPLOYEE ONBOARDING.
HIGHLY PERSONALIZED EXPERIENCE.

USERS & GROUPS.

Within these sections, participants in surveys can be easily onboarded. The USERS section stores important employee details such as personal data, an identification number, questionnaires assigned, and the business area a participant belongs to.

Users can be assigned to relevant GROUPS and immediately provided with access credentials. Groups can revolve around suitable criteria such as location, business area, or service. Once the group is formed, it is possible to add surveys and users or send invitations and reminders.

> Enjoy the advantage of intuitive navigation for adding new users and sending access data while keeping track of the number of users and surveys assigned.

Furthermore, a transparent chart with detailed monthly and yearly expenses is available at any time.

Thanks to the REPORTING section, you can assign and manage the recipients of the statistical reports. Reports preview is available for viewing, downloading, or printing.
